David Devoy: A Visionary Leader

David Devoy is a transportation industry veteran with over 30 years of experience. He joined Arriva in 2010 and was appointed Regional Managing Director of Arriva Scotland in 2015. Since then, he has led the company through a period of significant transformation.

Devoy is a passionate advocate for public transportation. He believes that public transportation is essential for creating a more sustainable and livable future. He is also a strong believer in innovation and technology, and he has overseen the implementation of a number of innovative projects at Arriva Scotland.

Arriva Scotland: A Leader in Innovation

Arriva Scotland is a leader in innovation in the public transportation sector. The company has invested heavily in new technologies and initiatives to improve the customer experience and reduce its environmental impact.

One of Arriva Scotland's most innovative projects is its use of electric buses. The company currently operates the largest fleet of electric buses in Scotland, and it plans to continue to expand its electric fleet in the future. Electric buses are more environmentally friendly than traditional diesel buses, and they also provide a smoother and quieter ride for passengers.

Arriva Scotland is also investing in new mobile ticketing technologies. The company's mobile app allows customers to purchase tickets and track buses in real time. This makes it easier and more convenient for customers to use public transportation.

Arriva Scotland: Committed to Customer Service

Arriva Scotland is committed to providing excellent customer service. The company has a team of dedicated customer service representatives who are available to help customers with any questions or concerns.

Arriva Scotland also has a number of initiatives in place to improve the customer experience. For example, the company offers a "bus buddy" program that pairs new riders with experienced riders to help them get to know the system.

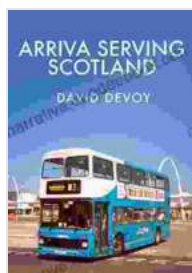

Arriva Scotland: A Leader in Sustainability

Arriva Scotland is a leader in sustainability in the public transportation sector. The company is committed to reducing its environmental impact and promoting a more sustainable future.

Arriva Scotland's sustainability initiatives include:

- Investing in electric buses
- Promoting the use of public transportation
- Reducing waste and emissions

Arriva Scotland is a leading provider of public transportation services in Scotland. Under the leadership of Regional Managing Director David Devoy, the company is committed to innovation, customer service, and sustainability.
