The new model is based on the following three principles:

1. Focus on your core competencies. What are the things that you do best? What are the things that make your business unique? Once you know your core competencies, you can focus your efforts on developing those areas. This will help you to become a leader in your industry and attract customers who are looking for the best products and services.
2. Build a strong team. Your team is your most important asset. They are the ones who will help you to achieve your goals. Make sure that you hire the best people you can find and that you create a culture of teamwork and collaboration.
3. Create a customer-centric culture. Your customers are the lifeblood of your business. They are the ones who will pay for your products and services. Make sure that you put your customers first and that you do everything you can to meet their needs.

If you follow these three principles, you will be well on your way to accelerating growth, attracting capital, and maximizing the value of your business. Here are some specific examples of how you can put these principles into action:

- Focus on your core competencies. If you're a software company, focus on developing the best software products possible. If you're a manufacturing company, focus on producing the highest quality products possible. Don't try to be everything to everyone. Be the best at what you do.
- Build a strong team. Hire the best people you can find, even if they're more expensive than you'd like. Create a culture of teamwork and collaboration. Make sure that your employees feel valued and appreciated.

- Create a customer-centric culture. Put your customers first in everything you do. Make sure that your products and services meet their needs. Go the extra mile to make sure that your customers are happy.

By following these tips, you can put the new model to work for your business and achieve your goals of accelerated growth, increased capital, and maximized value.

The new model is a powerful tool that can help you to achieve your business goals. By focusing on your core competencies, building a strong team, and creating a customer-centric culture, you can set your business up for success. So what are you waiting for? Start putting the new model to work today.
