What is PBIS?

PBIS stands for positive behavior interventions and supports. It is a framework for creating a school environment that is positive, supportive, and respectful. PBIS is based on the idea that all students can learn and succeed, even those with challenging behaviors.

PBIS is a three-tiered system of supports. Tier One is universal prevention, which is provided to all students in the school. Tier Two is targeted prevention, which is provided to students who are at risk for developing behavior problems. Tier Three is intensive intervention, which is provided to students who have severe behavior problems.

The PBIS Tier Three Handbook

The PBIS Tier Three Handbook is a comprehensive guide to implementing Tier Three interventions in schools. It provides step-by-step instructions on how to:

- Assess students for Tier Three interventions
- Develop and implement individualized behavior plans
- Monitor student progress and make adjustments to plans as needed
- Collaborate with other professionals to provide supports to students

The handbook also includes templates for behavior plans, progress monitoring forms, and other resources.

Benefits of PBIS

PBIS has been shown to have a number of benefits for students, including:

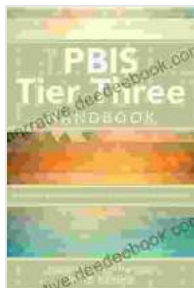

- Improved behavior
- Increased academic achievement
- Reduced suspensions and expulsions
- Improved school climate

PBIS is a cost-effective way to improve school safety and discipline. It can help schools create a more positive and supportive learning environment for all students.

The PBIS Tier Three Handbook is a valuable resource for educators who are looking to implement PBIS in their schools. It provides step-by-step instructions, templates, and resources to help educators create a positive and supportive learning environment for all students.
