

The Ruth and Martin Album Club: A Journey Through Music and Friendship

In 2010, Supreme Court Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg and her husband, Martin Ginsburg, founded the Ruth and Martin Album Club. The club was a monthly gathering of friends who shared a love of music. Each month, the group would gather to listen to a different album, and they would discuss their thoughts and feelings about the music.

The club was a cherished tradition for Ruth and Martin. It was a space where they could relax, enjoy music, and share their love of learning with their friends. The club also provided a space for friendship and connection. Through the years, the club expanded to include new members, and it inspired other clubs to form.
